Flight training is required for the MSHP pilots. All 10 pilots will receive their annual mandatory helicopter training. Failure to complete this training would result in the loss of FAA certification for Patrol pilots and aircraft. Additionally, the FAA requires aircraft be maintained in compliance with the Federal Aviation Regulations to ensure they remain in a safe and airworthy condition. Failure to comply with these maintenance regulations will result in enforcement action against the Patrol and pilot, as well as creating an unsafe flight conditions for our pilots and our passengers.

This NDI will purchase the Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) Equipment which is required in any potentially hazardous environments until the determination can be made that the environment is not oxygen deficient (29 CFR 1910.134). Disposal of drug labs requires officers and investigators to work in these types of environments frequently. In calendar year 2012, the Patrol dismantled roughly 230 meth labs where this equipment was essential. The previous equipment used by the patrol was recalled by the federal government as it reached end-of-life service.

MSHP's Drivers' Examination Division is statutorily required to conduct all written and driver exams in each county of the state. To comply with the mandate, the 26 crews utilize portable computer testing stations to provide the written examinations. These stations consist of two laptops, five computer touch-screen tablets, a printer, a router, and a hard case for transporting the equipment. The use of the tablets for these tests decreases the rate of paper tests being stolen from the facilities. The request will cover the $350 per device maintenance costs which will be ongoing, replacement of 25% of the equipment, and will replace 20 of the eye testing machines and equipment.

This NDI will provide the additional funding needed to update the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS). AFIS is used to support both efforts in crime prevention and identification by the MSHP, as well as by many other state departments and agencies for employment screenings of employment applicants that work with vulnerable groups. AFIS was last updated in 2006 and maintenance costs have been increasing annually (roughly $900,000 estimated for FY14). The system is no longer supported by the manufacturer, and the increased unreliability of the system has caused extended downtimes in the system. The current storage capacity has almost reached its limit as well. MSHP estimates that it will reach 100% by February 2014, and core funding will be used to support the additional storage costs until funding becomes available for the updates.

This will fund a centrally controlled security camera system that will survey the Patrol facilities (9 troop headquarters, 2 satellite centers, and crime labs) which are not currently monitored. The communications towers are not included in this NDI, those cameras have been added during the interop process and were purchased using the MOSWIN funds. The system will provide live-viewing with real-time alerts for possible activity. This will increase the security and safety of these sites, as well as reduce the amount of officer time that is spent responding when an issue or incident occurs.

This will replace the radio system recording platform currently used in the Patrol cars with the Eventide System. Currently, there are three separate recording systems for the low-band radios, the high-band radios, and the phone communications. These systems are all recorded on different processes and take a substantial amount of time to convert into one record system to be used for evidence. This system will combine the current three processes for recording audio in the trunked radio system into one process, thereby saving costs for the support of the other systems, and simplifying the process for recording and extracting the audio.

Due to increased operating costs, the Division of Fire Safety is unable to cover E&E expenses for the expanding Elevator Safety, Boiler & Pressure Vessel, and Blasting Safety programs, as well as expansion in the program areas supported by GR. Over 70% of their motor vehicle fleet is assigned to GR programs, and the additional GR would offset the rising fuel costs that the division has attempted to absorb until this point.

This funding is requested to update the system the National Guard must use to maintain all Missouri military records. Funds will be used to purchase updated scanning equipment that can convert the current microfilms and microfiche files into digital files. Approximately 18 million pages of hard copy, microfilm and microfiche need to be scanned and approximately 5,000 additional hard copy files are received yearly to be filed. These records are requested by various entities to confirm qualification of veterans benefits.

Until 2012 the federal government permitted the MONG to retain federal trucks that were no longer mechanically reliable to perform the federal mission to be used at MONG training sites and readiness centers for grounds maintenance and snow removal. In 2012 the federal government mandated that all of these vehicles nation wide be turned into federal surplus. This NDI will provide funding for four vehicles to support snow removal and ground maintenance work.
